

ENVIRONMENTAL, HEALTH, SAFETY & SUSTAINABILITY

Corporate Environmental, Health, Safety and Sustainability, reporting through the Office of General Counsel, has overall corporate responsibility for environmental, health, safety and sustainability matters. More specifically, Corporate Environmental, Health, Safety and Sustainability is responsible for:

- establishing enterprise-wide policies, standard operating procedures and guidelines
- managing compliance assurance
- driving continual improvement in performance, efficiency and processes
- providing technical and legal guidance
- monitoring legal and regulatory developments and emerging issues
- fostering cross divisional collaboration, idea sharing, and best practice adoption through the EHS Council, the Executive Sustainability Council and their respective working groups
- collecting and reporting environmental and safety metrics
- communicating information on material EHS&S topics to employees
- providing employee training on EHS subjects
- engaging with pertinent regulatory agencies and NGOs
- facilitating and contributing to the company-wide global sustainability initiative